ANUC is a Christ Centered University

In developing the whole man in pursuit of excellence. ANUC is committed to the "Total Personality Development" (TPD) which encompasses Leadership (Social Development / Ethical Values), character (moral values & dress code), Spiritually (Christian Values) and Discipline (Academic and Career Development). Each student is developed intellectually, morally, socially and spiritually in a vibrant Christian atmosphere that ensures maximum effectiveness of his / her preparation for a chosen profession. Morning devotions (7 - 7: 30am every day) and career development sessions and / or Chapel services held on alternating Wednesdays between 11am and 1pm are all mandatory and must be attended. Student dressing must conform at all times to the general guidelines expounded in the students' handbook. Men must be in tie and formal trousers (no jeans), while ladies skirts must be long enough to cover the knees. Sleeveless, bare-back or tight fitting blouses, transparent blouses, low neckline dresses that do not fully cover the breasts, belly and armpits are NOT permitted . Trousers are NOT permitted for the ladies. A business suit with trousers may be worn.

Thus, TPD forms an integral part of our education and students are expected to fully participate in this programme.

Please sign below to ensure your commitment to ANU - TPD programme.
